The Heart Of Appomattox

By Terrie Conrad

There is no law that states a judge must be stern of countenance, righteous in his speech and admonishing in nature. If we have somewhere in our subconscious this mental image of a judge, then George F. Abbitt, Jr., Judge Recalled, Tenth Judicial Circuit, Appomattox, will be a pleasant surprise.

Judge Abbitt retired from the bench this past September 30th but was recalled immediately by the Virginia Supreme Court to help ease the backlog of cases in the eight county circuit which includes Appomattox. He maintains an office on Court Street complete with wall to wall law books and the paraphernalia so uniquely a lawyer's.

After choosing between a career in medicine and a career in law he graduated from the T. C. Williams School of Law of the University of Richmond and practiced in Appomattox from 1931 and was appointed Commonwealth Attorney in 1940 and appointed Circuit Court Judge in 1964. Although born in Newport News, Va., Judge Abbitt's roots are deep in Appomattox where his parents, grandparents and great-grandparents were born and raised. Believing that "good lawyers need to have a concern with people" he has lived that belief by being active in the civic affairs of his community. A past president of both the Lion's Club and the Raritan Club, a former member of the Town-Council and a past Chairman on the Board of Supervisors of Appomattox, Co., he has indeed shown a real concern for people. He presently serves on the Board of Trustees for the Virginia Baptist Hospital in Lynchburg.

Soft-spoken with impeccable manners and an old-world courtesy, Judge Abbit is firm on the subject of law and the importance of swift justice. When asked his opinion of Capital Punishment, he hesitated for a moment. "I am a Sunday School teacher at Liberty Baptist and I try to live my religion as best as I can so this is not easy to say. But I feel there are some crimes that the death sentence is the only deterrent for." There are also strong feelings concerning a citizen's responsibility for the effectiveness of the legal system. "If people would only realize that the law is made to protect them it would be easier." "If there were no crimes there would be no need for laws," he continued. "A law has never been enacted that there hasn't been a crime already committed that made that law necessary."

A family man, married to the former Josephine Cundiff, they have two married daughters and two grandchildren. Judge Abbit enjoys golf and hunting for relaxation and with the help of Sam Conner has raised and trained two bird dogs. He hopes to soon be able to use the new deer gun presented by the Bar Association of the "old fifth circuit" upon his retirement. However, with five cases currently under advisement and assisting with the back-logged caseloads of the 10th Judicial Circuit there isn't the time to take advantage of his "retirement."

When asked what he would advise an individual who wished to pursue the law he replied "It's important to be willing to work hard but character and integrity are equally important." You see..... Judges aren't so frightening after all!

Raiders of Week

After much deliberation, the ACHS coaching staff selected most of the offensive unit as Players of the Week. Shown kneeling is Joe Fraley who completed 9 of 17 pass attempts for 125 yards. He had one intercepted. Not available for the picture was "BooBoo" Trent who rushed for 201 yards and scored 26 points.

Raiders Spear Lancers

"BooBoo" Trent gave Raider football fans a night to remember as he rushed for 201 yards and scored four touchdowns in his final appearance as a Raider in Bragg Stadium.

The Appomattox team finished the season in a tie for second place in the Seminole District with a convincing 42-8 win over Amherst. Turk Wingfield put the Raiders ahead in the first period when he pulled down a 22 yard pass from Joe Fraley. A Fraley to Wingfield pass, good for a TD, on the previous play was nullified by a penalty. Trent scored three times in the second quarter on runs of 1 yard, 1 yard and 22 yards and ran for a two point conversion. Mitch Eggleston added a PAT and Appomattox led 27-0 at the half. Trent scored again on a 1 yard run in the third period giving him 26 points for the night. After Amherst made a successful drive and scored on a 1 yard plunge by Tony Freeman, Fraley and Wingfield teamed up on a 37 yard pass play and scored in the closing minutes of the game.

FLUE-CURED TOBACCO REFERENDUM DECEMBER 16 - The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that a flue-cured tobacco referendum will be held December 16. In the referendum, growers will vote whether marketing quotas and price support will continue in effect for the next three crops of flue-cured tobacco. If two-thirds or more vote "Yes, acreage poundage marketing quotas and price support will continue in effect. If more than one-third vote "no", there will be no marketing quotas and no price support for the 1977 crop.

The natinal marketing quota for the 1977 crop will be determined in November and individual growers notified of their farm quotas prior to the referendum. The national marketing quota must be based on estimated domestic use and exports of flue-cured tobacco during the marketing year July 1, 1977 through June 30, 1978 with a possible adjustment to maintain supplies, including reserves, at desired levels.

Legislation provides for a flue-cured tobacco referendum within 30 days after the quota determination in the last year of each three year period for which marketing quotas are in effect. In a referendum held in 1973, 98.5 percent of the 100,466 flue-cured tobacco growers voting favored marketing quotas for the 1974, 1975 and 1976 crops.

TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) met on Monday night, Nov. 1, 1976. Awards were given as the first order of business. Rachael McGahuey was runner-up. For no obsenses for the month, Miss Edna Joy and Kathleen Garlick received jewelry.

The best loser of the week was Calvin McGahuey, with a loss of 7½ pounds. Calvin really had a good week. He attributes his good loss to keeping his menu up-to-date. The same goes for everyone.It really helps when you have a chart telling everything you've had to eat for the day. If you keep up with it you'll be less tempted to over eat.

We added gladly 2 new members to our group. They are Terry Bryant and Eva Brown. We wish these girls the best of luck.

The Slim Pumpkin Contest ended on Oct. 25. Miss Edna Joy won with a total of 21½ points. She received a basket full of goodies donated by the members. Calvin McGahuey was runner-up with 20 points. He received ½ basket full. A new contest was started. It will end just before Christmas. Contests really help motivate our members to loose weight.

TOPS meetings are held at Love Fosters home on Rt. 24 on Monday night. Weigh-in at 6:30. Meeting starts at 7:00. Try us you might like us.

The Central Virginia React Team held its annual meeting Sun., Nov. 7. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Thelma Goin; Vice-President, James Daubenspeck; Corresponding Secretary, Shirley Seay; Recording Secretary, Rick Shelton; Treasurer, Mickey Martin; Parlimentarian, Fred Seay; Directors, Kenneth Deaner & Tom Goin; Monitoring Coordinator - Ed Burrell.

The members of the React Club have moinitored over 3800 hours on Channel 9 of the CB radio since they organized in February of this year. Our members have assisted callers who were involved in accidents, needed directions, had stalled vehicles, and other calls of this nature, and spent several manhours looking for a lost child.

The React Club held two 72-hour highway safety breaks, July 4th and Labor Day weekends, where with donations from the local businesses in Appomattox, they served free coffee, drinks, and donuts to passing motorists.

They also held two coffee-breaks where all the CBers in the area could meet all the other people who enjoy talking on the radio.

The React Club is proud of being ab le to raise $250 for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. And also of being able to place a base unit in the Sheriff's Office so that anyone needing them can call on Channel 9.

The React Club feels that it has accomplished a great deal since it was organized in February and hopes to do even bigger and better things in the future.

RALPH KING

Kings gets top award from state

Kings Markets Inc. has received the 1976 Governor's Food Dealer of the Year Award for promoting the sale of Virginia agricultural food products.

Ralph King, president of the Lynchburg-headquartered grocery stores, accepted the award November 1st at the Virginia Food Dealers Association Convention at Hotel John Marshall in Richmond. The award was presented by Administration Secy. Maurice B. Rowe.

The award, administered by the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Commerce, recognizes outstanding efforts to promote and merchandise Virginia agricultural food products and significant contributions to the prosperity of Virginia.

In making the presentation, Rowe said, "Even the most conservative figures show that more than 181,600 of our civilian workers in Virginia share in the retail dollar spent within the state on foods grown and processed here in Virginia.

"Those people buy other goods and services to the extent that virtually everyone in Virginia shares in the prosperity created by the sale of foods grown and processed in the state."

Kings was selected to receive the annual award on the basis of nominations submitted by a number of Virginia agricultural producers. The selection was made by a committee of people outside the Department of Agriculture and Commerce, who were appointed by Commissioner of Agriculture, S. Mason Carbaugh.

The president of Kings said that he was honored to have received the award.

King noted that items sold in his stores are purchased from Richfood Inc. in Richmond and added that Kings purchases and promotes the sale of many state grown or processed foods.

Education Week To Be Observed

The Appomattox County Education Association stressed today that American Education Week, Nov. 14-20, would be an excellent time for all parents and other citizens to demonstrate their concern for what happens in-and-to-the schools.

The schools will offer specialized programs and demonstrations throughout the week to mark the observance's theme, "The Schools Are Yours. Help Take Care of Them," according to Joyce C. Jamerson, president of the ACEA. The events will be planned and carried out in each individual school. Pamela White, 5th grade teacher at Appomattox Elementary School is chairperson of the Appomattox County Education Association sponsoring committee.

American Education Week, observed annually since 1921, seeks to encourage local citizen support and active participation in the improvement of education. This year the program will stress learning more about the schools as a basis for active and continued personal involvement. The nationwide event is sponsored by the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education.

The Appomattox County Education seeks to promote the cause of education, to provide an opportunity for a continuous study of the problems of the profession and to maintain a spirit of cooperation with the community. The ACEA urges each parent and concerned citizen to demonstrate their concern for the educational system of Appomattox County.

another 5% cut in state funds this year. We are reluctant to ask the Board of Supervisors for additional funds at this time when we may have to go later in this school year to ask for funds to meet our contractual obligations and general operating costs."

The Board took no action, however, they informed the delegation that they would continue to consider the needs which were expressed, along with other needs of the schools, and would work to provide the improvements to the track and baseball field at the earliest possible time.

Superintendent Lloyd Walton presented a financial report to the Board which showed disbursements through October of $684,928.61 and appropriations for the same period of $722,250.00.

In other business, a status report of 1976 ACHS graduates was discussed. Twenty-six percent are involved in further education, 2.9 percent are employed part-time, 53.4 percent are employed full-time, 9.8 percent are unemployed, 5.7 percent are full-time homemakers and 1.7 percent are classified in other categories.

Work will begin very soon on the renovation of an unfinished basement room in the Appomattox County High School for a special education classroom.

The need for an additional driver education car was discussed with the Board and the superintendent was authorized to enter into an agreement with Lawson Ford, Inc. to secure a car to be used in the driver education program beginning January of 1977.

At the October meeting, the Board authorized the superintendent to apply for federal assistance to establish a career guidance program for students in grades 7-12, beginning with the 1977-78 school session. The Board was informed that the application was filed with the State Department of Education on November 1. The program, if approved, will provide approximately $91,000 for two guidance counselors, a mobile unit and equipment at the Appomattox Middle School, secretarial assistance and the necessary equipment and materials to implement the program.

Following a discussion regarding the purchase of school buses for next year and the increase in prices which will come after April 1, 1977, the Board authorized the superintendent to ask for quotations for four school buses.

The Board set Monday, December 6, 1976 for the next regular meeting of the Board.

Congressman Expresses Appreciation To Voters

WASHINGTON - Upon returning from a military mission, Congressman Dan Daniel today expressed "deep appreciation" to voters in the Fifth Congressional District who on November 2, returned him to office for a fifth term.

Daniel, who was first elected in 1968, said he was "delighted" over the largest vote he has ever received. Unofficial totals show Daniel with over 100,000 votes, compared to 83,772 in 1972 when he was also unopposed. Two years ago he received 52,459 votes in an off-year election, when his name was the only one on the ballot.

In referring to his reelection, Daniel said, "I shall work diligently to merit the continued confidence of those who have given me their support."

The Congressman said he is particularly pleased that the voter turnout in the Fifth District and Virginia was the largest ever recorded. "Representative democracy", he said, "cannot operate to its fullest extent without majority participation."

cents per share. After-tax earnings from operations were $12,815,000 or 50 cents per share, compared with earnings of $12,779,000 or 49 cents per share for the third quarter of 1975.

For the first nine months of 1976, Armstrong's estimated sales were $739,292,000, compared with 1975 sales of $643,944,000 for the January-through-September period. Estimated earnings for the nine-month period including the extraordinary gain from the sale of woodlands of $12,400,000 or 48 cents per share were $57,419,000, or $2.22 per share. Estimated net earnings from operations were $45,019,000, or $1.74 per share, compared with earnings of $25,747,000, or 99 cents per share, for the comparable period of 1975. In the 1976 period, unrealized currency exchange gains amounted to approximately $3,400,000, or 13 cents per share, compared with the $3,900,000 or 15 cents per share gain included in the 1975 nine-month earnings total.

According to Armstrong president James H. Binns, these results were achieved despite a reduction from the 1975 level in consolidated earnings of Armstrong's affiliated companies abroad. He attributed the decline in foreign earnings to a combination of negative factors including a deterioration in cost-price relationships; costs involved in preparation for initial production at the new Thornaby-on-Tees, England, rotovinyl flooring plant of the company's British affiliate; currency exchange losses realized on inter-company sales in greater Europe; and nonrecurring expenses associated with the closing down of Armstrong's woven carpet operations in Canada to concentrate on more profitable tufted carpet in that country.

Looking to the remainder of 1976, Binns said: "We are anticipating a continuation of modest year-to-year improvement in the majority of the domestic markets we serve. Despite the persistence of most of the negative factors affecting our internationally based companies, we are hopeful for the beginning of a turn-around in their performance trends. On balance, therefore, we continue to feel that 1976 will prove to be a year of progress for the company as a whole."

Odd Man Out

Divide a deck of cards in half. Have someone pick a card from one half and put it in the other half. Shuffle the half with the "secret" card. Fan the cards out and pick out the "secret" one.

You can learn how to do many tricks like this by reading the secrets on Dixie Magic Tricks Cups For Kids. The secret of this one was that the odd cards, Ace, 3, 5, 7, 9, Jack and King were put together before starting, and the even cards were together. Don't mess them when dividing the deck and the secret card will be the even one in the odd half or the odd one in the even half.

now in effect Directory Assistance Charging

Here's why and how it works...

- Soaring Directory Assistance calls for listings readily available in the telephone directory cost Continental Telephone Company thousands of dollars a year...which eventually work back to the customer. Charging for Directory Assistance now helps control these volumes and thereby control expenses.
- Now in effect...Continental charges 10c for each call to Directory Assistance in excess of an allowance of six (6) calls per main telephone line per billing period.
- Charging does not occur until after the sixth call. This helps recover some of the cost of providing the service from those who use it the most.
- The Directory Assistance operator provides a maximum of two phone numbers on each call. The charge applies only to calls within the state of Virginia and if the local calling area extends into another state jurisdiction.
- The handicapped are not charged for Directory Assistance calls, and there is no charge for Directory Assistance calls from hotels, motels, hospitals and coin phones, or out-of-state long distance Directory Assistance calls.
